WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 2022 (IN-PERSON AT FREMONT STUDIOS)

5:00 (CHECK-IN) | 5:30 (RECEPTION) | 6:30 PM (DINNER & PROGRAM)

The last two+ years have been a time of crisis and upheaval, not just in public health, but socially, economically, and politically. Can Seattle emerge from these trials stronger and better? Much will depend on the city's rising generations, and how we nurture their potential and ideals.

Access to quality higher education is key, and every year North, Central and South Seattle Colleges are the destination for tens of thousands of Seattle residents, many of whom could otherwise be excluded from the opportunity. Today, among our roughly 32,000 students:

- 45% are from families of color, primarily of lower income.
- 48% are the first in their families to attend college, including many newly arrived immigrants and refugees.

Each of the Seattle Colleges has a distinct personality and curricular focus. But all share a commitment to being the best open-access colleges anywhere, welcoming students regardless of past academic performance, cultural background, citizenship status, gender, sexual identity, or age.

With the Equity Can't Wait campaign, the Seattle Colleges Foundation is ensuring that all these remarkable — and remarkably different — students have every chance to thrive. That means mobilizing added resources for scholarships and student services, for innovation in programs and curricula, and for excellence in facilities and instruction. Our $50 million campaign launched in Spring 2021 and is already more than halfway to goal.

Join us as a sponsor on October 12 and help us accelerate this Momentum.
